Mr. Frank A. Reed to Be Buried With the Delightful Weather Makes Life Pleasant A Day Devoted to Temperance at the How Many Washingtonians Are Enjoying A Parliament Called to Meet at Atlanta Highest Masonic Honors.

Critical Illness of Rev. Dr. Suter, Rector of Christ's Church-Other Happenings.

The remains of Mr. Francis Avery Reed, president of the board of trade of this city, an account of whose death appeared in The Star, will be laid to rest, with Masonic honors, from his late residence on Prince street between Washington and St. Asaph tomerrow afternoon at 5 o'clock. The arrangements for the funeral services have not as yet been completed, but so far as can be learned they will be conducted by the officers of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Virginia, of whom the following will be present: J. P. Fitzgerald, grand master; A. R. Courtney, deputy grand master; R. T. W. Buke, jr., grand junior warden; J. V. Bidgood, grand secretary; G. W. Wright, grand secretary, G. W. Might, grand senior deacon, H. O. Kerns, grand junior deacon, and W. C. Wilkerson, grand tiler. These officers will be assisted in all probability by the officers of Andrew Jackson Lodge, of which the deceased was a prominent member and past master, and the officers of Alexandria-Washington the officers of Alexandria-Washington Ledge, both of this city.

As the result of an agreement entered into some years ago, and renewed, it is said, within the past few weeks, that in the event of the death of either party the other was to perform the Masonic service, Mr. William H. Lambert of this city, past grand master of the Grand Lodge of Virginia and year master of the Alexandriagrand master of the Grand Lodge of Virginia, and past master of the Alexandria-Washington Lodge, at the request of Mr. Reed's widow, and by courtesy of the officers of the Grand Lodge, will perform the Masonic rites at the grave. The interment will take place in the Presbyterian cemetery, where the remains of some of his relatives now ile.

At a meeting of the Old Dominion Commercaery of Knights Templar, of which Mr. Reed was past eminent commander, held in their chambers last night it was decided to postpone their trip to Boston until temorrow night, when they will leave on the 10:52 train, in order that they may attend the funeral in a body. They will escort the members of the Blue Lodge, A.F. and A.M., both organizations appearing it. and A.M., both organizations appearing in and A.M., both organizations appearing in their full regalia, and the members of both Andrew Jackson and Alexandria-Washington Lodges will attend in a body.

Dr. William R. Purvis, the coroner, held an inquest over the remains of Mr. Reed last night, with a jury composed of Chas. J. Wise, foreman; A. A. Warfield, Frank Warfield, C. G. Lennon, Robert Arnold and W. D. Stewart, and after having examined several witnesses the following verdict was rendered: "We, the jury, find that the decessed came to his death from a pistol shot wound, inflicted while under temporary aberration, caused by prolonged sickness."

Critical Illness of Rev. Dr. Sater.

Dr. Suter has been at Bedford City for some weeks past, but as he grew rapidly worse it was deemed best to bring him to his home in this city, and last night he was taken to the Alexandria Infirmary, where an operation was performed on him by Drs. taken to the Alexandria Infirmary, where an operation was performed on him by Drs. Fry, Van Rensalaer and Suter of Washington and Dr. Ashby of this city. An opening was made in his side, and for the first time the physicians learned the real cause of his sickness. It was found that he was suffering with a cancerated kidney, and there is little hope that he will live longer than a few days. This morning he was reported as resting easily and doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances. be expected under the circumstances.

Dr. Suter has for many years past been the rector of Christ Church, and is now the rector of Christ Church, and is now serving in that capacity. He is a member of the board of trustees of the Virginia Theological Seminary and also one of the examining chaplains of the diocese of northern Virginia.

The Police Court. Justice Thompson presided in the Police

Court this morning, and had quite a lively time in disposing of the twenty-nine odd cases on the docket. The first prisoner called was a youth named Clem Green, who had been very disorderly in the house of his sister. For this offense the squire thought a fine of $7 or sixty days in the thought a fine of $7 or sixty days in the chain gang would be sufficient. The next case was one of indecent assault, when Thomas Elzy, a celored boy about twelve years of age, was charged by a small companion with having indecently assaulted him. He was made to pay a fine of $5.

A few days ago Officers Beach, Fergusson, Bettis and B. Hall were started out on their rounds to find the owners of unlicensed dogs. They appeared in the court this morning with charges against the following persons: R. B. Robertson, Lum Taylor, Rosler Bladen, Hattle Douglas, Scott Debbs, Spencer Raymon, Mary Gray, John Hennersley, Edmund Roe, John Bryant, Fielden Gaynes, George Bower, Gray, John Hennersley, Edmund Roe, John Bryant, Fielden Gaynes, George Bower, Frank Nichols, Richard Bernett, Silas White, Elizabeth Smith, Edward O'Brien, Albert Driefus, Dr. Hernson, Webb Roy, Willmer Carter, John Whalen, Elisa Butler, Walter Allensworth, John Rafferty, William Brawner, A. J. Poh, Thomas Nelson, Alfred Thumpung, Fiften, of these son, Alfred Timmons. Fifteen of these paid a fine of $1 each in court this morning, and the balance of the cases will be heard at a special session tonight at 7 o'clock.

The Flying Switch Case.

The case against the employes of the Washington Southern railroad, which was set for hearing in the Police Court last night, did not take place, as the defendants failed to appear. The men were arrested on a charge of using the streets of the city in making flying switches. It is said that the case will never be brought to trial, as there is no law to convict them. There are said to be a number of cases of malarial fever in the city at this time.

There is great complaint by the merchants along King street of leaky water mains, which have caused their cellars to become very damp, and in many cases the wells in them have overflowed. The choir of St. Mary's Church will leave here this afternoon for Fredericksburg, where they will sing mass and vespers to-morrow for Rev. Father Kenefick's church.

The Old Guard Entertainment. The Old Guard entertainment, which was given at National Rifles' armory last evening for the purpose of raising funds to enable that organization to take the Mt. The Mt. Pleasant Field Band opened the entertainment with a dress parade, which was followed by Prof. Schart's pupils in mandolin selections. Mr. George Little-ridge sang the "Sword of Bunker Hill," while other literary and musical numbers were given with effect. Among the athletic events down on the program was a sparring exhibition between Messrs. Carter and Moar of the Columbia Athletic Club, which received hearty applause. Mr. Van Dyke of Boston and Mr. Chunn of the C. A. C. also sparred, the latter getting the award of the bout. The last number was a tug of war between members of the C. A. C. The opposing sides were the blues and the Grays, and, after a prolonged and hard tussle, the blues won. It is thought that the proceeds will help very materially in procuring funds for the popular young organization to go to Louisville, and the Old Guard are working with might and main to enable the little fellows to accompany them as an escort. ATLANTIC CITY, August 23, 1895. The weather has been very inviting during the past week, being somewhat similar to the much-lauded stock that California always has on hand. The days are warm. but when night falls cool breezes blow making sleeping under blankets comfortable, and permitting the attendance at hops and other indoor pleasures. This has had a very good effect upon that class of entertainment, and the number of people who have participated was augmented considerably.

The beach chairs, which are used greatly during the bathing hours, are being put to a very novel use of late. The chairs are of the steamer kind, and are swung clear of the ground on uprights, holding up an awring to protect the occupant from the sun. They can be changed to any position, and the fad just now is to have them hammock fashion, and allow the tide to come up and wash under them. They seem to be a favorite rendezvdus for the dude and his summer girl to bill and coo, while asking each other what the wild waves are saying.

Rules for Street Car Conductors.

To The Editor of The Evening Star:
Observing from the daily press that the District Commissioners are considering the ubject of revising the police regulations, and that they have in view certain rules for the government of street railway companies, I beg leave to suggest a requirement which seems to me to be much needed, namely: The rendering of assistance by conductors to ladies with little children, when not accompanied by their husbands, servants or friends; also to ladies enfeebled by age or ill health, when unaccompanied.
Our car lines in this city, one and all, are lax to a cuipable degree in this respect.
On many occasions my wife has reported to me the discourtesy she had suffered in attempting, with her two young children to get one relight from our offenfered in attempting, with her two young children, to get on or alight from our often-times crowded cars, while the conductor stood insolently at his "post" with one hand on the bell cord, and added to her discomfiture by the (always premature) "all aboard," or the clang of the bell be-fore terra firma had been safely reached. Such negligence is not tolerated in other cities. I know, and it seems to me that cities, I know, and it seems to me that Washington can ill afford to be so noticeably deficient with respect to details involving the comfort, convenience and safety of the patrons of these fayored corporations; and I feel that I am voicing the sentiment of every woman who is daily subjected to the dangers arising from the undue haste and negligence as common with these company controls. and negligence so common with these com-panies. I hope, therefore, you will urge upon the Commissioners to require the personal assistance of conductors when cir-cumstances would seem to render it neces-

There was a large crowd present in camp vesterday. President Gee conducted the early altar services. A prayer and testimony services at 9:45 a.m., under the conduct of Elder Wilson, was a fitting prelude to the sermon of Dr. G. V. Leech. The eloquent speaker paid a tribute to the late Dr. Laney, whose memory is ever green in the hearts of the frequenters of Washington Grove, and the feeling that was behind the words stirred every heart to sympathy. A young man, John Davis of Middle Crook, was prostrated by an attack of epilepsy near the conclusion of the service, and kindly cared for by President Gee and Mr. Hedding Leech. He was selzed with a second attack in the afternoon near the Albany Hotel, and, through the generosity of Mrs. J. W. Duval and the ladies of the hotel, was cared for and given funds to defray his expenses home.

Catlin, superintendent of Sabbath observances, read an appropriate Scripture selection. Prayer by Dr. Wilson was followed by brief and pointed talks by Miss Lizzie Kessler, whose theme was "Faith and Hope;" Mrs. T. A. Williams, on "Organization." Mrs. Dr. Burritt made an appeal for the further protection of the dumb creation. Mrs. La Fetra, world superintendent of the W. C. T. U., spoke strongly on "Good Citizenship." Mrs. Clinton Smith instructed the audience in "Legislation and Petitions," and Mrs. M. E. Merrick delighted her hearers with an able exposition of "Gospel Temperance." Mrs. Martyn's theme was "Victory," and Miss Salee Oomasayah told of the curse of intemperance in her own tribe. The W. C. T. EXCURSIONS.

The eleventh annual tournament and grand dress ball will take place on the green lawns of Marshall Hall Wednesday next, August 28. It is expected that this affair will outshine in every way all the events of like nature which have been given at Marthe Traymore.

Col. A. D. Hagen, U.S.A., and his wife and daughter are comfortably quartered at the Pennhurst for the balance of the season.

Gen. George F. Curtis, U.S.A., at present stationed at Washington, is registered at the Rudolph.

J. B. Cralle of Washington is with a party of friends at Haddon Hall.

Familiar Faces in the Crowd.

Among the Washingtonians here are present and participate in the affair. The tilting will commence promptly at noon, and all knights mist ride in costume. In the evening Professor Schroeder's band will furnish the music for the ball, which will last until a late hour. The entrance money accruing from the entrance fees of the knights, with $75 added thereto by the management of the place, will be divided between the first five knights. Seats at the tournament will be provided for the ladies and dressing rooms for both ladies and gentlemen will be conveniently located. The chief marshal will be H. Heber Boswell, and Walter M. Page, C. Harry Stonestreet and Claude Lloyd will act as his aids. L. Allison Wilmer will act as orator of the day, and Robert Crain as orator of the evening.

One of the mist popular excursions that takes place on the Potomac river is the thirty-three-hour trip to Chapel Point on the fast-flying iron steamer Harry Raudall. The boat leaves every Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday at 7 a.m. for Chapel Point, and the fare for the round trip is $2. This includes transportation, lodging and breakfast at Hotel Belleview, one of the pretiest villas on the Potomac river, and home fast at Hotel Belleview, one of the pret-tiest villas on the Potomac river, and home again the rext day. The fare for the round trip to Norfolk and Fortress Monroe on the magnificent steamer Newport News is $3.50, and no like sum could be more profitably expended for a short outling than in this way. The Newport News leaves every Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday morning at 8 a.m., and, after an all-day sall on the river, reaches Fortress Monroe in time to see the sun set from that point. The ride home in the cool night breezes is just as pleasant as the day trip, and the motion of the boat, combined with the soothing influences of the sound of the water and the moonlight, make a combination not soon to be forgotten. The boat gets back to this city on Monday morning if the Sunday trip be taken, thus allowing those unable to get away for a longer time the chance to take a delightful trip for a small sum and a short space of time. short space of time.

It will be hard to find a more pleasant place than River View tomorrow to spend a day or even a few hours out of the city, and those who go in search of a day of rest will be rewarded. This resort is a well known and enticing one, which is evidence by the large numbers who daily patronize it. Amusements of various descriptions are to be found here, and Prof.Arth's band will render a concert all day long on the porch adjoining the cafe. The steamer Samuel J. Pentz will leave at 10:45 a.m., 2:45 and 5:45 p.m.

Marshall Hall will be an ideal resort to Marshall Hall will be an ideal resort to spend Sunday. HOT SPRINGS, Va., August 23, 1895 Springs of a few years ago and the Hot Springs of the present. When they were first launched as a resort one hotel ample to accommodate all who came here in search of renewed health. Now three hotels and about twenty-five cottages are it-adequate to supply the wants of the numerous guests, so next season Hot Springs will be graced by a magnificent new hotel, which will be one of the finest in this section of the country. A new swimming pool will also be built next seascn. Mr. Fred Sterry will have charge of the entire plant.

Washingtonians constitute a large percentage of the patrons, but only during July and August, for Washington during the spring and fall months is in itself a delightful resort.

Base ball played by the waiters is an amusement of which many of the guests never seem to tire. It is great sport to watch the antics of these southern darkies, and their quaint expressions keep the spectators in a roar of laughter. One of the favorite and unique expressions of one of the players is: "I neber had so much fun since I'se been colored." AFFAIRS IN GEORGETOWN.

How the Charters of Two Railroads

The charter of the Great Falls Railroad Company was saved last night through the running of a car on the rails, it being stipclated that a failure to do so by August 23 at midnight would work forfeiture. The charter of the Rosslyn extension of the Mount Vernon road is effective today also, through the same procedure. Several trip of the car were made on this line. Horse were used on the Arlington road. On this Much difficulty was experienced in getting the Great Falls car in position, the horses used in its transportation from Glen Echo headquarters being stalled once or twice. The charter stipulates that the line must be in full operation by the time Congress next convenes. line must be in full operation by the time Congress next convenes.

The Arlington extension of the Mount Vernon road runs now from Rosslyn to the National cemetery gate, and in a week or two will be through the government reser-

The present terminus of the road is at Rosslyn, but those interested in electrical railroad matters say that the company will strongly endeavor at the coming session of Congress to secure legislation necessary to bring the tracks over the Aqueduct bridge to the union depot junction.

bring the tracks over the Aqueduct bridge to the union depot junction.

The bed of the Arlington and Mt. Vernon road is practically the same as that planned for the Pennsylvania steam extension, which was begun about a year ago and then abandoned. As the property was bought by the Pennsylvania company, paid for by their representatives, and as the iron for the electric extension has all been shipped in the name of the Pennsylvania company, it is believed there is no doubt that the Mount Vernon electric road is now the property of that company. Apropos of the Great Falls road, the "Court Record" of yesterday shows the following under the of yesterday shows the following under the head of deeds of trust: "The Washington head of deeds of trust: "The Washington and Great Falls Railway Company to the National Safe Deposit, Savings and Trust Company, to secure $500,000 in bonds, ten, twenty and thirty years, 6 per cent, all property, rights and franchises of said company." The old Washington and Arlington road, which became a bankrupt, was sold out and bought in by Woodbridge, Turner & Company for only $2,500, has practically been abandoned.

Old Bones Reburied The numerous human bones exhumed by

To remove all the bones from this vicinity and properly reinter them in a cemetery would require a congressional appropriation, old residents say, they are so numerous.

by Secretary Morton. What He Expects to Accomplish by the Meeting-Some Good Will

Secretary Morton of the Agricultural Department has issued a call for a good roads parliament, to meet at Atlanta in October. The Secretary thinks that an excellent op portunity will be offered by this meeting to premote the good toads propaganda and to arouse public interest in the subject of improving the roads of this country. "The meeting will at least accomplish," said Secretary Morton to a Star reporter today, "what is always accomplis the attrition of mind with mind. People will become aroused to the importance of the subject by the discussions and good will come of it. It we could ever get a will come of it. It we could ever get a uniform system of good roads in this country it would reduce the cost of transportation to the farmers over one-half. It has been estimated that the average cost to an Illinois farmer of hauling his products to the point of shipment is $2 per ton, and farmers everywhere will find that the greatest cost of the transportation of their products is for the distance between the farm and the depot."

The call issued by Secretary Morton is as follows: The Secretary of Agriculture is charged by act of Congress to collect and disseminate information concerning the public reads. To this end all legally authorized organizations of officials and of private individuals who have given special attention to this subject, are hereby notified that they are cerdially invited by the governor and ger eral assembly of the state of Georgia, the mayor and council of the city of Atlanta, the authorities of the cotton states and interrational exposition, and the various local commercial military and second of Atlanta, the authorities of the cotton states and interrational exposition, and the various local commercial, military and social organizations, together with the national road conference and the National League for Good Roads, to the assembling of a "road parliament," to be held in the hall of the house of representatives at Atlanta on the 17th, 18th and 19th of October, 1895.

The invitation is urged upon all state highway commissions, state and local road improvement associations, and upon commercial bodies and boards of trade and transportation. Agricultural societies and farmers' organizations, universities, agricultural colleges and engineering schools, societies of civil engineers, humane societies, the League of American Wheelmen, carriage and bicycle builders' associations and all other organizations or individuals especially concerted or experienced in the improvement of highways are likewise cordially solicited to be in attendance or represented.

dially solicited to be in attendance or represented.

It has been suggested that defegates at large may be appointed by the governors of states and asked to participate and report directly to the governor of each commonwealth the results of the meeting.

Real progress in road improvement is observed by the Department of Agriculture since the organization of the office of road inquiry. The importance of a general exchange of views among those concerned in road legislation and construction throughout the United States cannot be overestimated.

A majority of the states of the Union have recently adopted new systems of road legislation. Many of them are actively engaged in road construction under new methods. A comparison of methods and results will prove of the utmost value to the people.

Held on Suspicion.

A colored man named William H. Montague, who lives at No. 1247 Madison street, is locked up at the second precinct station on suspicion. Several days ago his wife tried to dispose of a diamond pin, and when Policeman Auldridge called at the house last night for an explanation Montague claimed that he found the pin on the street two weeks ago. As the pin is worth about $150, the police held him in order to find its owner. The prisoner has been in the employ of Samuel Sherwood, the plumber, for fifteen years and enjoys a good reputation.
